Vespucci Collection: high-performance leather perfect for the most challenging conditions

Vespucci: a unique leather, tested under the most intense conditions, from the challenges of saltwater and chlorine to harsh weather and direct sunlight. Thanks to its specialized treatment, it offers impeccable protection against stains and moisture, maintaining its beauty and durability over time. Easy to care for, Vespucci is the ideal choice for outdoor spaces, marine environments, pools, and spa areas.

This collection is the result of Prodital Leather's years-long collaboration with renowned Italian and international shipyards, dedicated to crafting natural leathers that blend elegance, resilience, and an unique tactile experience, ensuring lasting appeal and endurance even in the most demanding weather conditions.

Durable

Designed to withstand extreme conditions, it is highly resistant to bending, wear, and tearing, ensuring long-lasting performance.

Liquid-Resistant

Effectively resists various liquids, including water, wine, alkaline solutions, and seawater, keeping the surface intact and protected.

Long-lasting color

Retains its original shade even after prolonged sun exposure and frequent cleaning.

Easy to maintain

Cleaning with delicate detergents is recommended, but the leather is also resistant to more intensive treatments.

Adhesion to finishing

The finish adheres firmly, guaranteeing resistance to scratches and wear over time.

Meets marine standards

Certified to comply with marine safety standards, it is ideal for outdoor applications and marine environments, suitable for both yachts and passenger transport vessels.

High yield and versatility

A uniform leather, free of defects and easy to work with, to ensure maximum use and reduce waste.

Sustainable Recovery

This leather is derived from the recovery of materials from the food industry, repurposed with respect for the environment.

Ideal for outdoor, indoor and technical environments: a leather of uncompromising excellence and durability.

Vespucci leather embodies the pinnacle of our high-performance leathers, engineered to meet the most demanding requirements. Crafted with artisanal care and cutting-edge techniques, it seamlessly blends tradition and innovation to ensure unparalleled durability. We collaborate with designers and industry professionals, recommending the most suitable leathers for every type of outdoor environment, from nautical spaces to gardens, spas, and swimming pools.
