SPUNLACE

Mundia Exports' Nonwoven Division operates a cutting-edge facility in Karachi, Pakistan, dedicated to the production of Spunlace nonwoven fabrics. Equipped with state-of-the-art technology supplied by a leading global nonwoven machinery provider, the plant consistently delivers world-class quality, widely recognized and validated.

Product range includes plain, aperture, embossed, colored, printed, impregnated and chemical treated Spunlace roll goods. Strict hygienic conditions are maintained throughout the manufacturing process of Spunlace for wet wipes, wound care and hygiene product applications.

AIR THROUGH BONDING

The prevalence of air-through bonding technology is widespread in our daily experiences, evident across a variety of products. Within the hygiene market, there is a demand for products characterized by qualities such as high uniformity, softness, bulkiness, and tensile strength. These requirements align seamlessly with the sought-after quality standards for items like baby diapers, feminine hygiene products, and adult incontinence items. This demand is particularly pronounced due to factors such as population growth, aging demographics, and an improved overall standard of living.

Mundia Exports is dedicated to providing customized solutions and has developed a specialized Air-Through-Bonding (ATB) process tailored for the manufacturing of hygiene products. Drawing on Mundia's extensive expertise in a range of hygiene nonwovens technologies—encompassing web forming and finishing techniques like Spunlace, Spunlaid, Spunjet, wetlace, and converting specifically designed for baby diapers, feminine hygiene, and adult incontinence—we ensure that the delivered products consistently meet the desired quality standards.

WADDING

Widely utilized in the comfort sector, thermo-bonded wadding plays a crucial role as the essential cushioning layer, enhancing the comfort features and providing a refined appearance to products. Parallel possesses fully equipped production facilities capable of producing various types of thermo-bonded wadding. The multi-line setup is designed to process diverse fiber types, converting them into a smooth and well-structured thermo-bonded wadding layer.

To ensure exceptional adaptability across different variations, Mundia Exports has integrated numerous enhancements into our machines. These enhancements can finely adjust aspects such as wadding height, compression, density, strength, and smoothness. Sustainability is a primary focus for our company, and in line with this commitment, we utilize recycled PET fibers. Consequently, we can offer our customers a product not only crafted from recycled materials but also fully recyclable.

WADDING

Wadding serves as padding in quilts and specific upholstery items. The various types of wadding are determined by production techniques and materials, such as cotton, polyester, or wool. Different thicknesses of wadding are available to suit specific applications, providing lightweight material that adds thickness and padding without burdening the final product.

In quilting, wadding is commonly used to impart structure and the necessary padding. The thickness of wadding typically ranges from 2oz to 6oz, and the choice depends on the quilt size and intended placement or usage.

For upholstery, wadding can be applied to achieve a desired thickness in lap blankets, appliquéd wall hangings, or seat and back cushions for wooden or garden seating. This imparts the desired comfort and padding, allowing for effective stitching, embroidery, or neat finishing touches.
