SOLE SIDE TABLE

NATURAL CHARM

Pots add flexibility and style to any garden. Easy to move around, they're ideal for any room, effortlessly enhancing the look – especially when mixed with lanterns and other decorations. Small tables can be used as a practical furnishing solution for terraces, balconies, or other garden areas and the Sole Side Table is a perfect example of that.

we recommend good habits

TO EXTEND THE LIFE OF OUTDOOR PRODUCTS

Place your flowerpots, lanterns, and other small decorative items in places where they will not be damaged by bad weather. Alternatively, they can be stored covered or inside when not in use.

We always recommend placing furniture in covered and dry areas to reduce exposure from the weather. Although furniture is made from materials that withstand the weather to some extent, factors such as color fading may occur over time if placed in direct sunlight.

Wash the furniture before storing it for longer periods such as autumn and winter. Oil the furniture as needed. It all helps to extend the lifespan.

Drain water from flowerpots and watering cans during the winter so they are not damaged by frost.
