Balvi × EINA

In celebration of our sixtieth anniversary, we joined forces with EINA University of Design in Barcelona for an exhilarating product design competition. The challenge was to seamlessly blend Balvi's avant-garde form-function approach with the imaginative prowess of the students.

The winning creation, called Hydrant and designed by Eduard Martinez, takes the form of a sleek water bottle, ingeniously shaped like a fire hydrant, capturing both the urban vibe and the fundamental need for hydration.

Hey Chess

Board Game

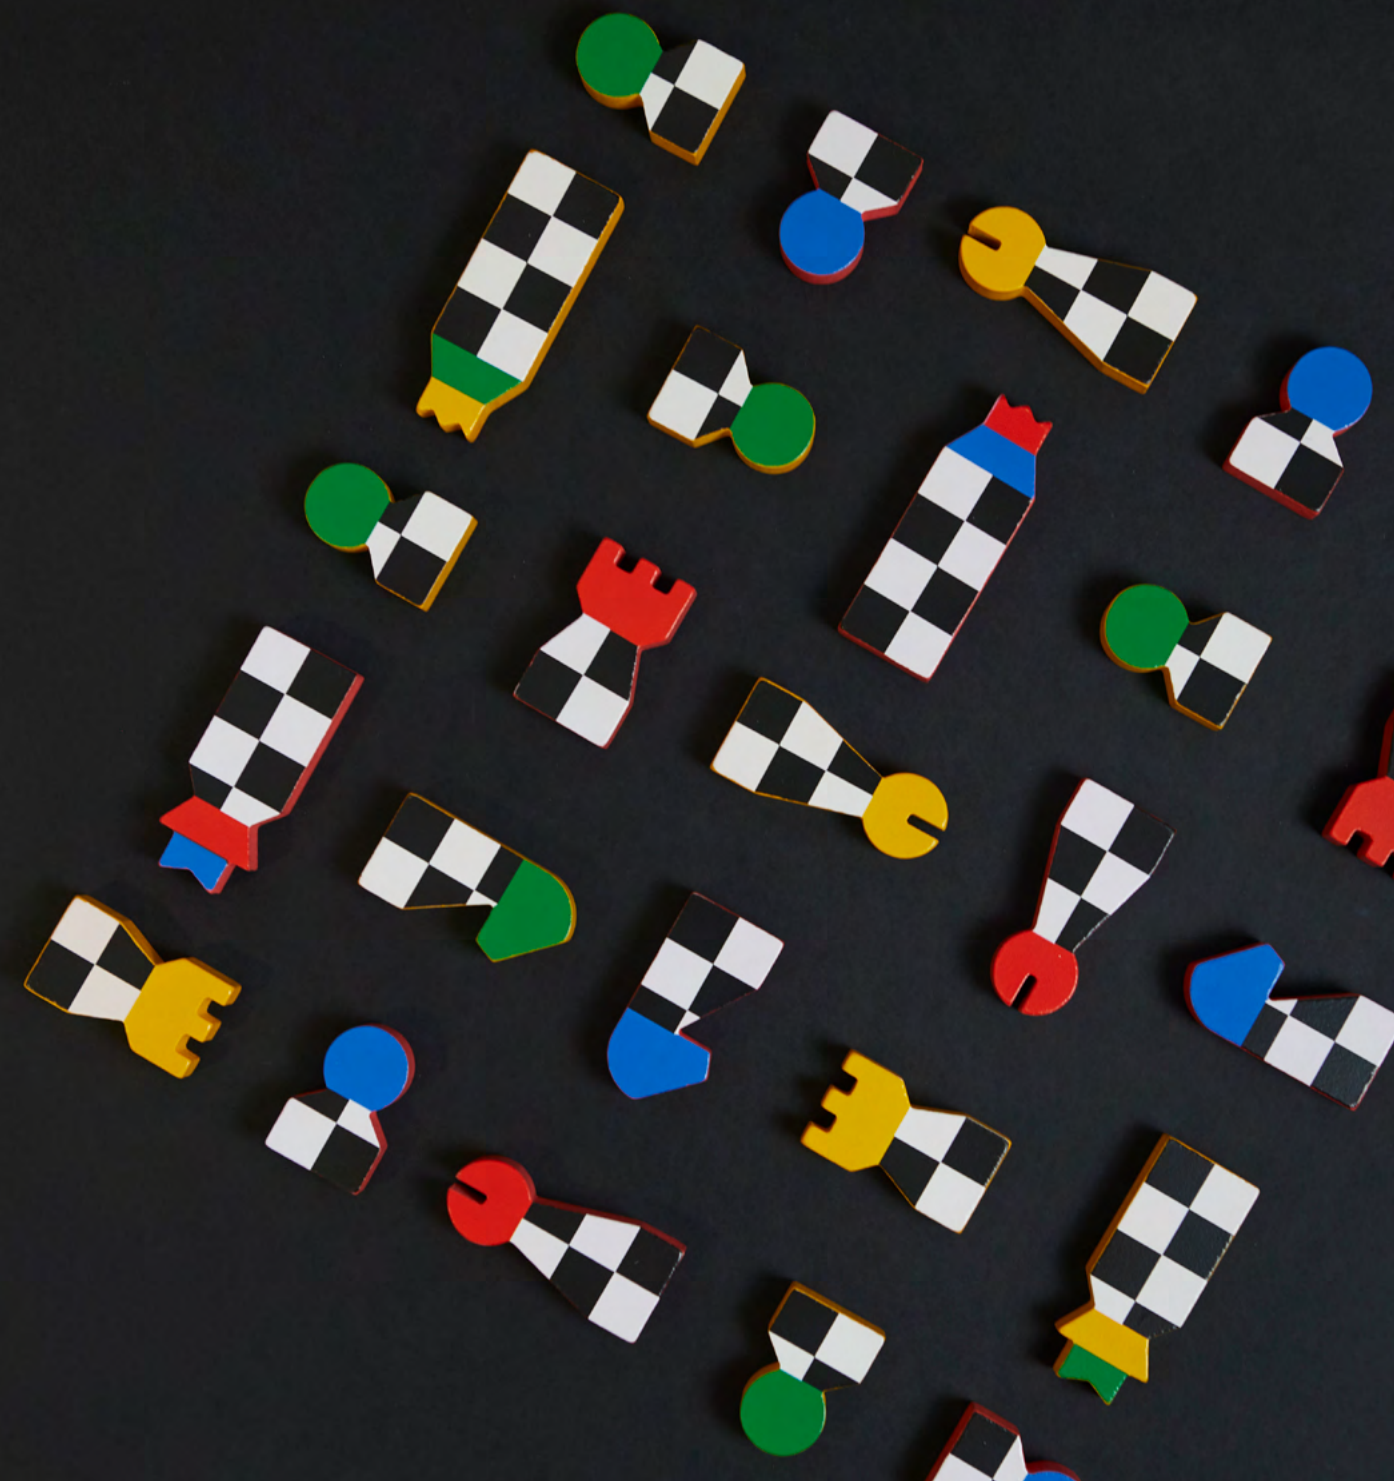

Hey Chess
Board Game
27800

Balvi and Hey, two creative brands based in Barcelona, unite this time in their belief in the power of design. Through simple shapes, precise patterns and colors, Hey Chess was created for traditional board game enthusiasts looking for unique and powerful decorative objects.

True to their essence of thinking outside the box, a “disboring” brand like Balvi, and a playful studio like Hey, the result is a timelessly designed chess board game where black and white squares jump out at the pieces to immerse the player in a psychedelic and colorful experience.

Avocado Vase

Seed Grower

27927

The Avocado Vase seamlessly blends functionality with aesthetics, serving as both a functional tool for the optimal growth of avocado roots and a decorative element. Its original design, specifically crafted for avocado seeds, features a top section that facilitates the perfect placement of the seed just above the water level.

This unique combination of functionality and beauty makes it an ideal addition to any space, providing not only a nurturing environment for avocado growth but also an eye-catching accent for interior decor.
