La cultura e l'arte della stampa nel Veneto

Diventare un “laboratorio di stamperia creativa”, dove mani esperte realizzano prodotti raffinati ed esclusivi. Essere fulcro di una sapiente tradizione artigiana, in grado di ripristinare una storia antica, guardando al futuro sotto il segno dell'innovazione.

Da oltre 60 anni è questa la missione della famiglia Tassotti, che proprio dal 1957, anno in cui Giorgio Tassotti iniziò l'attività di grafico stampatore a Bassano del Grappa in Veneto, ha raccolto l'eredità dell'Antica Stamperia Remondini, diventandone a tutti gli effetti la prosecutrice. Grazie alla collaborazione con il Museo Civico cittadino, custode di importanti raccolte della produzione remondiniana, Tassotti ha inizialmente riprodotto vecchie stampe popolari e carte decorate da parato - prendendo spunto da xilografie policrome originali Remondini - per poi completare il catalogo con stampe d'arte, biglietti augurali, diari, libri, oggettistica per la cartotecnica, del “fai da te” e dell'origami. Vera e propria ambasciatrice del “Made in Italy”, l'Azienda è un punto di riferimento internazionale nel settore delle carte decorative.

Printing culture and art in Veneto

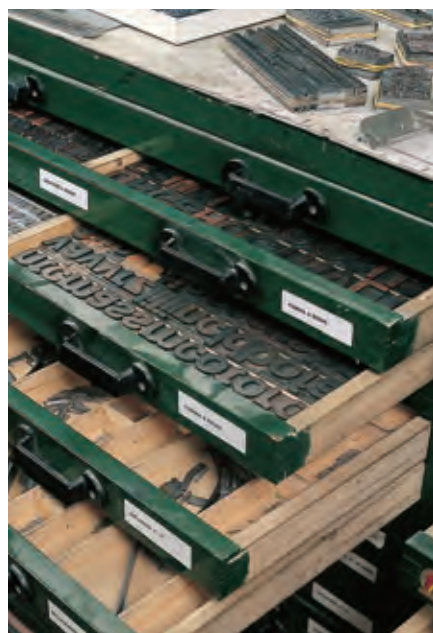

To be a “creative printing laboratory” where refined exclusive products are made by expert hands. To become the linchpin of a skilled artisan tradition, capable of restoring an ancient story, looking to the future thanks to innovation and continual renewal. For over 60 years, these have been the mission objectives of the Tassotti family, who in 1957 - when Giorgio Tassotti opened his graphic printing business in Bassano del Grappa, in Veneto - took over the Antica Stamperia Remondini, becoming, to all effects and purposes, the heir to this ancient printing works. Thanks to collaboration with the Civic Museum in Bassano, which houses important collections of products made by Remondini, the Tassotti company initially reproduced popular old prints and decorated wallpaper - inspired by Remondini original polychrome xylographic prints - and then completing its catalogue with art prints, greetings cards, diaries, books, and articles for the paper products industry, DIY, and origami. A real ambassador of the “Made in Italy” philosophy, the company is an international benchmark in the sector of decorative papers.

Kunst und Kultur des Druckes in Venetien

Eine kreative Druckereiwerkstatt, in der erfahrene Hände raffinierte und exklusive Produkte erschaffen, der Mittelpunkt einer reichen handwerklichen Tradition zu sein, die in der Lage ist, antike Geschichte widerzuspiegeln, wobei sie sich hinsichtlich der Innovation und einer ständigen Neugestaltung an der Zukunft orientiert. Das ist seit über 60 Jahren die Aufgabe der Familie Tassotti, die 1957 – dem Jahr, in dem Giorgio Tassotti mit seiner Tätigkeit als Druckgraphiker in Bassano del Grappa in Venetien begann – das Erbe der Antica Stamperia Remondini angetreten hat, indem sie ihre Tätigkeit in diesem Sinne weiterführt. Dank der Zusammenarbeit mit dem Stadtmuseum von Bassano, welches die bedeutenden Sammlungen der Remondini-Werke aufbewahrt, hat der Betrieb Tassotti anfangs alte Volksdrucke und Dekotapeten reproduziert – indem er sich an original polychromen Remondini-Holzschnitten inspirierte – und schließlich sein Sortiment mit Kunstdrucken, Glückwunschkarten, Tagebüchern, Büchern, Artikeln für die Papierverarbeitung, zum Basteln und für Origami bereicherte. Als wahrhaftiger Vertreter des „Made in Italy“ ist der Betrieb ein internationaler Bezugspunkt im Bereich des Buntpapiers.

La culture et l'art de l'impression en Vénitien

Devenir un « laboratoire d'imprimerie créative » où des mains habiles réalisent des produits raffinés et exclusifs. Être le cœur d'une tradition artisanale et redonner vie à une histoire ancienne, mais se tourner vers l'avenir grâce à l'innovation et à un effort constant de renouvellement. Telle est, depuis plus de 60 ans, la mission de la famille Tassotti qui, depuis 1957 – lorsque Giorgio Tassotti débuta son activité de graphiste imprimeur à Bassano del Grappa en Vénitien – poursuit l'œuvre de l'Antica Stamperia Remondini dont elle est devenue l'héritière à part entière. Grâce à la collaboration avec le musée municipal de Bassano, qui conserve d'importantes collections issues de la production de Remondini, l'entreprise Tassotti a initialement reproduit d'anciennes gravures populaires et des papiers peints décorés – à partir des xylographies polychromes originales de Remondini – puis enrichi le catalogue de gravures d'art, de cartes de vœux, d'agendas, de livres et d'objets de cartonnage, pour les loisirs créatifs et l'origami. Véritable ambassadeur du made in Italy, l'entreprise est aujourd'hui une référence internationale dans le secteur des papiers décoratifs.

La cultura y el arte de la imprenta en Veneto

Convertirse en un «taller de imprenta creativa», en el que manos expertas realizan productos elegantes y exclusivos. Estar a la base de una sabia tradición artesanal, capaz de recuperar una historia antigua, mirando al futuro bajo el signo de la innovación y de la continua renovación.

Esta es, desde hace mas 60 años, la aspiración de la familia Tassotti que ha recogido, precisamente desde 1957 – año en el que Giorgio Tassotti inició su actividad de impresor gráfico en la ciudad de Bassano del Grappa en Veneto – la herencia de Antica Stamperia Remondini, convirtiéndose a todos los efectos en su continuadora.

Gracias a la colaboración con el Museo Cívico de Bassano, que conserva importantes colecciones de la producción remondiniana, la sociedad Tassotti primero empezó reproduciendo viejas estampas populares y papeles decorados para paredes – inspirándose en xilografías policromas originales Remondini – para seguidamente completar el catálogo con obra gráfica, felicitaciones, diarios, libros, objetos y artículos de papelería, así como papeles para manualidades y papiroflexia.

Auténtica embajadora del Made in Italy, la sociedad es un punto de referencia internacional en el sector de los papeles decorativos.

Dei Remondini stampatori in Bassano nel XVII secolo e le origini della "carta Varese"

Tra il 1657 e il 1861, Bassano acquistò fama in Europa per l'importante attività editoriale della stamperia Remondini. Fondatore fu Giovanni Antonio Remondini nel 1657 con la stampa di libri di devozione e stampe popolari. Dal 1725 il figlio Giuseppe dà un fortissimo impulso sia al settore calcografico che a quello tipografico, sviluppando la produzione di carta da parati usata anche per mobili e nella legatoria di libri. A metà del '700 i prodotti remondiniani sono ormai in tutta Europa grazie alla diffusione ad opera dei Tesini venditori ambulanti trentini. Nella seconda metà del Settecento la consistenza della Casa Remondini è la seguente: 18 torchi per la tipografia, 24 torchi per la calcografia e una vasta attrezzatura per la produzione di carta dorata, carte fiorate, indiane, persiane, francesi, marmorate, tartarugate ecc... La ditta conta mille operai ed è considerata la più grande d'Europa per produzione e diffusione. La caduta della Repubblica di Venezia segna l'inizio del declino. Così tra il 1859 e il 1861, dopo ben duecento anni di imponente attività, vengono separate e cedute tutte le varie produzioni. Il magazzino carte decorate e i relativi impianti xilografici vengono acquistati dalla cartiera Molina di Varese che ristampa e diffonde i vari modelli remondiniani sino al 1940 dando così origine alla denominazione "carta Varese". Nel 1958 gli eredi Molina donano tutti i legni xilografici al Museo di Bassano la città da dove erano partiti a fine '800. Ed è in quelli anni che lo stampatore Giorgio Tassotti, con la collaborazione del Museo Civico ristampa e ripropone nel mercato le fantasie di carta decorativa remondiniana "Fioratavarese".

Consigliamo di visitare presso il nostro punto vendita "Carteria Tassotti" la storica Raccolta Remondini-Tassotti e a Palazzo Sturm la sezione del Museo Civico di Bassano del Grappa dedicata alla stamperia Remondini.

Remondini, printers in Bassano Veneto in 1600 and the origins of "Varese paper"

Between 1657 and 1861, Bassano gained fame throughout Europe due to the impressive publishing business of the Remondini printing works. Founded by Giovanni Antonio Remondini in 1657, the company initially produced prayer books and popular prints. Giovanni's son Giuseppe then brought about great innovation in 1725, boosting both the chalcographic and the typographic sector, with development of the production of wallpapers, which were also used for furniture and in the book-binding business. By the mid-eighteenth century, Remondini products were to be found throughout Europe thanks to distribution by the Tesini, travelling salesmen from Trento. In the second half of the eighteenth century, Remondini owned the following assets: 18 printing presses, 24 chalcographic presses, and a vast array of equipment for producing gilded, floral, Indian, Persian, French, marbled, tortoiseshell paper, and much more. With a thousand employees, the company was considered the largest in Europe for production and distribution. The fall of the Venetian Republic however marked the beginning of the end for the Remondinis. Between 1859 and 1861, after 200 years of prodigious activity, it became necessary to separate and sell off the various production lines. The warehouse of decorative papers and relative xylographic machines were purchased by the Molina paper factory in Varese, which reprinted and distributed the various Remondini patterns until 1940, hence the name "Varese paper". In 1958, the Molina heirs donated all the xylographic woodcuts to the Museum in Bassano, the city where it had all started at the end of the nineteenth century. This was when the printer Giorgio Tassotti, in collaboration with the Civic Museum in Bassano, started to reprint and redistribute the Remondini "Fioratavarese" decorative paper patterns.

You can visit in our store "Carteria" the historic Remondini-Tassotti collection and at Palazzo Sturm the section of the Civic Museum dedicated to the Remondini printing house.

Die Remondini, Drucker in Bassano Veneto im 17. Jahrhundert und die Ursprünge der „Carta Varese“ Zwischen 1657 und 1861 erwarb Bassano europaweiten Ruhm für die bedeutende Verlagstätigkeit der Druckerei Remondini. Ihr Gründer war Giovanni Antonio Remondini, der im Jahr 1657 mit dem Druck von Gebetsbüchern und Volksdrucken begann. Im Jahr 1725 verlieh sein Sohn Giuseppe einen starken Einfluss sowohl auf den Tiefdruckbereich als auch auf den typographischen Bereich, so dass die Herstellung von Tapeten auch für Möbel und in der Buchbinderkunst entstand. Mitte des 18. Jahrhunderts wurden die Remondini-Produkte bereits mittels trentinischer Straßenhändler, den „Tessinern“ in ganz Europa verkauft.

In der zweiten Hälfte des 18. Jahrhunderts besaß der Betrieb Remondini: 18 Druckpressen, 24 Druckpressen für den Kupferstich und umfangreiche Werkzeuge für die Papierherstellung wie Goldpapier, Papier mit Blumenmotiven, indisches, persisches, französisches, marmoriertes Papier und Schildpatt-Papier, um nur einige zu nennen. Der Betrieb beschäftigte 1000 Arbeiter und wurde wegen seiner Produktion und des Vertriebes als der größte seiner Art in Europa angesehen. Der Sturz der Republik Venedig leitete den Niedergang des Betriebes Remondini ein. Dies führte schließlich dazu, dass der Betrieb nach zweihundert Jahren erfolgreicher Tätigkeit zwischen 1859 und 1861 die Betriebszweige aufteilte und diese veräußerte. Das Buntpapierlager und die dazugehörigen Matrizen wurden von der Papierfabrik Molina aus Varese erstanden, welche ab dem Jahr 1940 mit dem Nachdruck und dem Vertrieb verschiedener Remondini-Modelle begann und somit den Namen „Carta Varese“ ins Leben rief. Im Jahr 1958 schenkten die Erben Molina die gesamten Holzschnitte dem Stadtmuseum von Bassano, der Stadt, in der Ende des 19. Jahrhunderts alles begann. Eben in jenen Jahren beginnt der Drucker Giorgio Tassotti in Zusammenarbeit mit dem Stadtmuseum von Bassano, das remondinianische Buntpapier „Fioratavarese“ nachzudrucken und wieder auf den Markt zu bringen.

Entre 1657 et 1861, Bassano acquit sa renommée en Europe grâce à l'importante activité éditoriale de l'imprimerie Remondini. Elle fut fondée en 1657 par Giovanni Antonio Remondini pour l'impression d'ouvrages de dévotion et de gravures populaires. À partir de 1725, son fils, Giuseppe, imprime une très forte impulsion aussi bien à la chalcographie qu'à la typographie, et développe ainsi la production de papiers peints également utilisés dans le secteur des meubles et de la reliure de livres. Au milieu du XVIII^e siècle, les produits de Remondini sont connus dans toute l'Europe grâce à la distribution assurée par les Tesini, des vendeurs ambulants du Trentin. Durant la seconde moitié du XVIII^e siècle, la maison Remondini dispose de 18 presses pour la typographie, de 24 presses pour la chalcographie et d'un équipement complet pour la production de papier doré, de papiers fleuris, indiens, persans, français, marbrés et d'autres encore. La société, considérée comme la plus grande d'Europe en termes de production et de distribution, emploie mille ouvriers. La chute de la République de Venise marque le début du déclin de la maison Remondini. C'est ainsi qu'après deux-cents ans d'intense activité, toutes les productions sont vendues séparément. L'entrepôt des papiers décorés et les installations xylographiques sont achetés par la papeterie Molina de Varese qui réimprime et commercialise les différents modèles de Remondini jusqu'en 1940, donnant ainsi naissance à l'appellation « papier Varese ». En 1958, les héritiers Molina offrent toutes les tables de bois xylographiques au musée de Bassano, la ville qu'elles avaient quittée à la fin du XIX^e siècle. C'est à la même époque que l'imprimeur Giorgio Tassotti, en collaboration avec le musée municipal de Bassano, réimprime et commercialise sur le marché les motifs des papiers décoratifs de Remondini « Fioratavarese ».

La familia Remondini, impresores en Bassano Veneto en 1600, y los orígenes del papel «Varese»

Entre 1657 y 1861, Bassano adquirió fama en Europa por la importante actividad editorial de la imprenta Remondini. Giovanni Antonio Remondini fue su fundador en 1657, imprimía devocionarios y estampas populares. Su hijo Giuseppe dio, a partir de 1725, un considerable impulso a la actividad, tanto en el sector del huecograbado como en el tipográfico, desarrollando la producción de papel pintado para paredes, que se usaba también en muebles y en la encuadernación de libros. Los productos de la imprenta Remondini, a mediados del siglo XVIII, se encontraban en toda Europa gracias a la difusión llevada a cabo por los vendedores ambulantes del valle del Tesino, en provincia de Trento.

En la segunda mitad del siglo XVIII, Casa Remondini disponía de los siguientes bienes: 18 prensas tipográficas, 24 prensas de huecograbado y todo lo necesario para la producción de papel dorado, papeles con motivos florales, papeles indios, persas, franceses, jaspeados, imitación concha y muchos más. La firma contaba con mil obreros y era considerada la más grande de Europa por producción y difusión. La caída de la República de Venecia supuso también el inicio del declino de Casa Remondini. Así, entre 1859 y 1861, tras unos doscientos años de imponente actividad, fueron separadas y cedidas todas las producciones de la empresa. El almacén de papeles decorados y sus correspondientes instalaciones xilográficas fueron comprados por la fábrica de papel Molina, en provincia de Varese, que continuó la impresión y difusión de los varios modelos remondinianos hasta 1940, originándose así la denominación de papel «Varese». En 1958, los herederos Molina donaron todas las maderas xilográficas al Museo de Bassano, la ciudad de la que habían salido a finales del siglo XIX. En esos mismos años, el impresor Giorgio Tassotti, con la colaboración del Museo Cívico de Bassano, volvió a imprimir y a ofrecer comercialmente los estampados del papel decorativo remondiniano «Fioratavarese».
