Sustainability

Travel Sentry corporate social responsibility advocates for sustainable production, workplace safety, and the reduction of waste.

The accessories range is primarily made with RPET Nylon and RPET Polyester ranging between 70-100% recycled material. All items are manufactured in factories with GRS (Global Recycle Standard) certification, a standard that sets requirements of recycled content, chain of custody, social and environmental practices, and chemical restrictions.

The packaging is made with FSC[®] paper as standard, with the construction keeping the use of glue and other components to a minimum in order to facilitate recycling.

Quality

Travel Sentry has applied a high level of quality to this accessories collection.

In developing the collection, materials and finishes have been sourced with ergonomic support and comfort in mind. The team has hundreds of years of aviation and travel experience combined, encouraging the creation of a collection that will make the journey as comfortable as possible for the most demanding traveller.

The quality of stitching used throughout the range has been paramount to creating a long-lasting product, and our choice of materials has been thoughtfully considered based on use. For example, materials that don't bobble or show visible sweat stains have been employed for a premium feel.

Each and every aspect of the collection has been considered, and this shows in the details.

Functionality

All products within the accessories collection have been designed with a focus on improving the travel experience.

From mesh panels for visibility and breathability, to RFID pockets on some items for added security, each piece has been carefully considered so that it can fulfil its maximum potential. In addition, each item has been made with lightweight fabrics to improve organisation without adding weight, and most items come with a separate care pouch for added protection and storage.

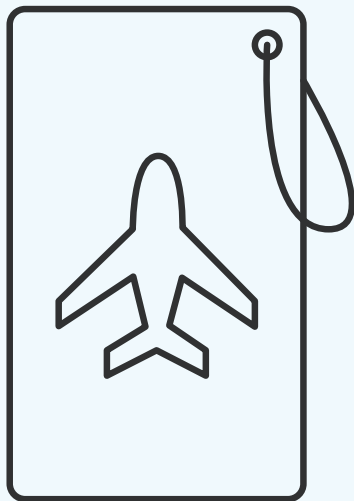

We’ve ensured that the details are what set our accessories apart. From the waterproof compartments on the toiletry bags, to the numerous pockets of the foldable backpack, and even the nose bridge contour on the eye mask — each product has been developed to enhance the journey from start to finish.

Care Instructions

One of the most sustainable things you can do is take care of your belongings so that they last for the long-haul. We want our accessories to endure for years to come, and because all of our products are designed to make your journey easier, we'd like to share some simple tips to keep them in good, clean working order.

Materials: NYLON, POLYESTER AND TPU (Thermoplastic Polyurethane)

You will only need a few things to clean your items: a cloth, some liquid soap and cold water. Empty the item (if necessary), and use a damp white cloth to wipe the item all over regularly. Removing all crumbs and dirt that may have accumulated throughout your journey. Leaving it fresh for your next adventure.

Don't forget to let your item (including the inside, if applicable) dry completely overnight.

When it comes to stains, use a damp, soft, white cloth, and gently rub the stain away with cold water until it is removed. If necessary, pour a small amount of liquid soap directly on the stained area and rub the stain away.
