4. Quality control

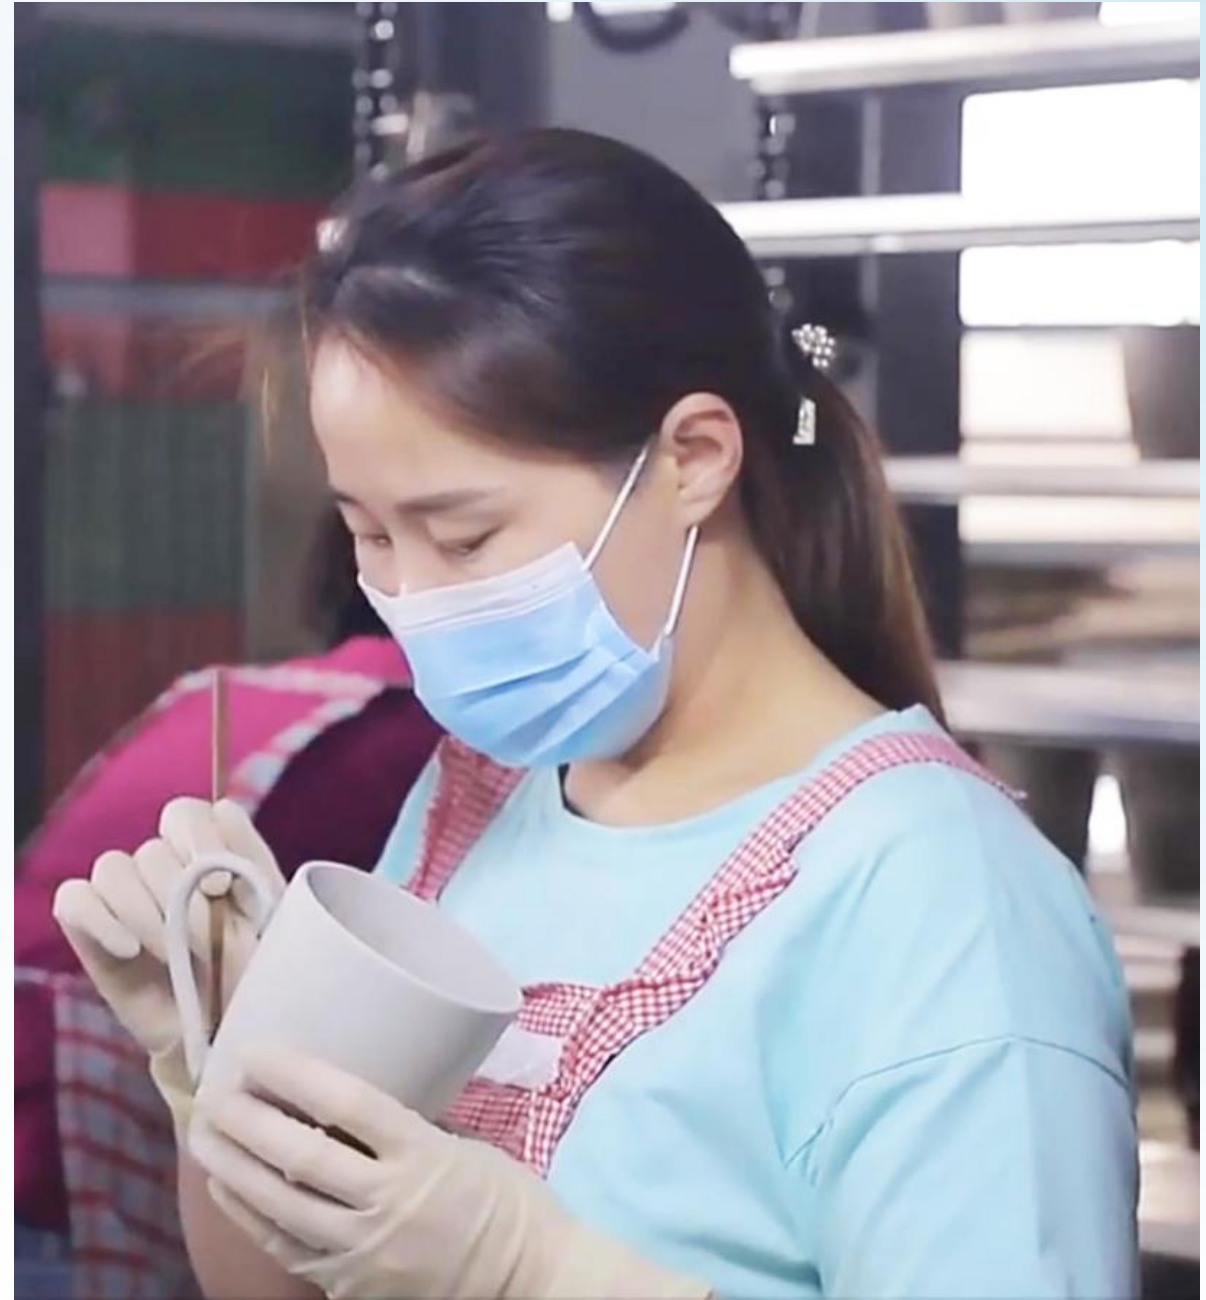

When it comes to the quality of our tableware, we don't believe in shortcuts.

Every plate, bowl, mug must go through at least 9 meticulous processes to become qualified Harmony tableware.

Strict quality control procedures are carried out not only during the mass production process, but also technically supported by our technicians in the factory at every stage.

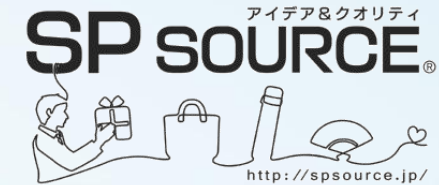

Our tableware has passed the pressure test, thermal shock test, microwave oven test, dishwasher test, oven test, and exceed the EU testing standard.
