

Anshan Green Apple Stationery Co., Ltd.

Our Story

High quality products and fine finishing make Green Apple the company it is today.

We are growing very fast from a small company to now having a strong global presence, selling to more than 40 countries. We have a lot of experience in this field allowing us to achieve ambitious growth targets and meet our customer's needs.

Today, Green Apple supplies major wholesalers and retailers worldwide with notebooks, diaries and other high quality stationery products. We have production plants and facilities readily available in China to make customised products and to meet the sophisticated needs of our customers. However, one thing always remains the same. We are committed to using high quality materials and unique craftsmanship.

We really enjoy creating long standing relationships and mutual growth with all of our customers.
