Searange Glassware

About Us

Established in 1996 with head office in Hong Kong, we specialized in manufacturing decorative glassware and tableware.

With full lab testing center, we export stable quality products mainly to department stores in UK & other European countries under good control on cost and quality.

Recently we further work with several world class designers to launch their design items in our product range which will give us a better position to compete with other suppliers globally.

We also developed a series of new products in combination of different materials to complete range of glass.

Welcome OEM and any kind of co-operation or suggestion for business development.
