Fleur des Champs

Designer Christie Peysson

Fleur des Champs

With French Wildflowers in May

With the collaboration of French designer (Christie Peysson), the design motif was obtained from wildflowers in May. It has a cute French style, creating a fresh and lovely table.

The Swiftness Cooling Technology(SCT) method, which cools rapidly with temperature differences above 500°C, increases strength and density to reduce color and odor contamination.

The drop test for steel ball as well as thermal shock, high frequency adequacy, heat resistance test have passed, and can be used in refrigerator, microwaves, and dish washers.

Thin and light, reducing storage space and wrist strain.

La Plante

A small botanic garden on the table, 'La Plante'

With the collaboration of French designer (Christie Peysson), the design motif was obtained from wildflowers in May. It has a cute French style, creating a fresh and lovely table.

The fresh green patterns are simply well organized, making the main dishes stand out regardless of the food's type such as Korean food, western food, and desert.

The Swiftness Cooling Technology(SCT) method, which cools rapidly with a temperature difference of more than 500°C, is applied to increase strength and density, reducing color and odor contamination.

Peony

Designer Christie Peysson

Peony

A peony in full bloom on the table

The design, completed in collaboration with French designer, Christie Peysson, has a design motif from the flower, Peony. The color and touch of the peony are expressed by the designer's sensibility and feeling, which are both shy and mysterious.

Flower patterns in various shapes not only make the food stand out, but also create a brighter table atmosphere.

The Swiftness Cooling Technology (SCT) method, which cools rapidly with a temperature difference of more than 500°C, is applied to increase strength and density, reducing color and odor contamination.
