BEAUTIFUL DURABLE ESSENTIAL

Known globally for sustainability, durability, and design, barebones delivers a wide assortment of everywhere essentials designed for a lifetime of use. From classic gardening and woodsman tools, to cast iron and enamelware, to lanterns and wax canvas bags, our mission is focused on developing essential life tools that harken back to a bygone era when products were built well and built to last.

ORIGINS / THE STORY

Barebones has a history steeped in philanthropic work and continues to help lift people out of poverty by providing essential skills, education, and tools.

The first product ever created by the Barebones team was the state-of-the-art emergency shelter, and this continues to be one of the primary assets they provide to underprivileged communities and disaster recovery efforts. With these bare-bone shelters, people in countries across the globe are actively receiving the protection they desperately need.

Barebones has evolved from its philanthropic roots, but continues humanitarian efforts and the “Do Good” philosophy it was founded on.

GIVING BACK / THE CULTURE

Giving back is a key element of our company culture and at the heart of what we do. Employees are given a week of time each year to volunteer for a non-profit of their choice and volunteer locally at Roots Charter High School in Utah.

Barebones believes in empowering communities to thrive, both locally and internationally, when resources are available. This abundance mindset is their “why” behind the generous donation of time, energy, knowledge, and products for the benefit of communities near and far.

OUR FOUNDER / THE VISION

“When you do good from your heart, magic happens, and that goodness comes right back.”

Robert Workman has spent his career finding ways to give back: from the early days with his first philanthropic endeavor, Tifie, a non-profit that helped marginalized individuals meet basic needs, to Goal Zero, a company that started as a way to provide solar power to groups in the Congo (and now to many around the world).

In recent years, Robert has gone back to his agricultural roots by creating Barebones and the products that help connect people to food, nature, and the primal pull of the fire. He has become more in tune with mother nature and finds joy in helping others do the same.

SUSTAINABILITY / THE IMPACT

“Barebones is a result of figuring out how to shelter, feed, and improve the lives of those less fortunate than ourselves. We are a purpose-driven company. While our products are beautiful and well made, we are committed not only to our business but to improving the lives of all we touch.”

-Robert Workman / FOUNDER AND CEO

A man with a beard and a hat, wearing a blue shirt and dark pants with suspenders, is leaning over a large, round, black metal fire pit. He is using long-handled tongs to adjust the fire. The fire pit is on a tripod stand. To the left of the fire pit, on a small wooden stump, are three red tomatoes. In the background, there is another fire pit on a tripod stand with a large piece of meat hanging from a rack. The scene is set in a forest with many trees and green grass.

KUKSA WOODEN DRINKING CUP

8oz / CKW-1021

PRODUCT EVOLUTION

Edison Mini Lantern

Meet the newly updated Edison Mini Lantern—same compact size and vintage-inspired charm, now with modern upgrades for even better performance. This version is fully rechargeable with a built-in battery, while still offering pass-through power for continuous use. The redesigned hanger loop ensures a more secure and streamlined attachment, replacing the previous loose hook. For easier operation, the power button is now conveniently located on the top center. Plus, the LED light strips have been re-engineered in a spiral configuration, creating a beautifully diffused glow.
