

ENGINEERED EXCELLENCE

IN WATER PUMP TECHNOLOGY

You can count on superior performance from Airtex water pumps. Each pump is engineered to keep the engine cooling system in premium running condition and deliver maximum coolant flow and durability just like its OE counterpart.

Airtex utilizes the same robotic assembly process for both OE and aftermarket pumps, maintaining the highest performance with features including;

- Precision-ground and permanently lubricated unitized bearing assemblies
- Unitized seals for exceptional protection against leakage and contamination
- Durable housings that feature precisely machined mounting surfaces for proper sealing
- OE impeller design & materials engineered for maximum coolant flow
