ABOUT US

Automotive manufacturers are continually looking at ways to reduce weight and improve the overall efficiency in automotive design and the use of plastic, rubber and sponge based components can help to achieve these goals.

The custom profiles we have manufactured have contributed to the functionality and aesthetics of the vehicle. Utilising techniques such as embossing, foiling and colour matching we are able to offer an unrivalled service.

MPP material portfolio is rivalled by no other in the industry, our customers can choose from a vast range of rigid, flexible and rubber based materials. Our profiles can be extruded in an extensive range of colours, offering product identification and differentiation. We can even co-extrude two different material types, each with their own individual colour creating attractive profiles for the automotive industry.
