Frank Hagmolen, Technical Services Manager at Huuskes

"We already have many meters of Ruys floors. The fact that Ruys can implement the entire project, including creating the slope layer, installing bump curbs and laying various types of floors while providing seamless, flowing floor transitions, provides us with coordination and planning advantages."

Efficient

Ruys floors are an efficient investment according to the 'total cost of ownership' principle, whereby the investment will definitely pay for itself in the long run. In addition, our experts are involved from the beginning of the construction or renovation project, preventing unnecessary implementation problems and saving unnecessary costs.

Durable

The Ruys floors have a long life due to their specific properties and require little maintenance. Natural materials are used often so that no harmful, chemical or toxic substances are released. All our floors comply with BREAAM certification, including the highest category: BREAAM Outstanding.

The Ruys Groep (1974) is a leader in advising on and realizing efficient and sustainable industrial floors. The Ruys Groep comprises several subsidiaries, each specialized in its own sector. Our subsidiaries have a wealth of knowledge and experience, which we exchange in order to offer the best total solution in numerous industries. We have laid our high-quality industrial floors in diverse countries, such as Belgium, Germany, Spain, Russia, Italy, North America and North Africa.

How we work

To determine which floor best suits a particular operations area or company premises, our specialists first meet with our clients or architects on location. By assessing the areas on-site, we gain greater insight into the production processes and circumstances as well as the associated wishes and requirements. In our proposed action plan, we advise on not only the optimal floor for each room/area, but also provide details concerning the location of drains, gutters, and skirting boards and on how to realize seamless joint transitions. Drawings are always part of this plan. We have extensive experience in maintenance, renovation and new construction projects. We are VCA and Halal certified and aware of all requirements regarding sustainable building according to BREEAM.

Proactive advice

Naturally, we actively advise you in your choice of floor, but we can also advise you in the area of drainage and wall protection. We offer a solution for every expected environmental and operating flooring challenge. By means of our expertise, experience and advisory role, the Ruys Group ensures the right floor in the right place so that our clients can work on the floor without any worries for years.

Accurate realization

The Ruys Group wants to be involved in any new construction or renovation plans of our clients as from the beginning and distinguishes itself by offering a broad total package. Because the specialist companies under the Ruys Group work as one, we achieve an accurate planning that you can rely on. Every project is unique and is completed with care.
