Trayco, a historical partner you can rely on

Trayco is living proof of the fact that a strong family company can distinguish itself on the market of cable support systems. Geert Ballet and Pieter Tsjoen founded our enterprise in 2012, with the construction of a 5.000m² production unit in Oudenaarde. Steven Vergalle joined the team in 2015. The trio has acquired respectively 24, 20 and 36 years of experience in the sector and couple their energy and gusto for business to an advisory role for each project.

The enterprise goes back much further than 2012 though. Trayco is the result of many years of experience and knowledge within a strong family group. The seeds were already sown in 1950, when Pieter's grandfather founded a sheet metal works. It was to be his first company in a series of many in the sheet metal processing sector. In 1982, the firm ventured into the cable support systems sector. The company was run by Steven with Geert Ballet at the helm as operational director. During this period Pieter Tsjoen set up Vento, a worldwide manufacturer of accessories for air channeling. After a couple of twists and turns, Steven, Geert and Pieter were reunited by their entrepreneurial spirit and passion for the sector at Trayco. Today, CEO Geert Ballet is responsible for the day-to-day management.

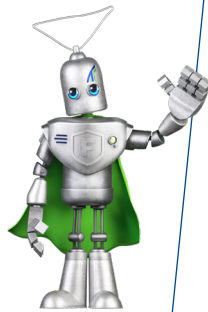

Innovating and advising, it's in our DNA.

Over the years, our experience and drive have won us the trust of major players in a short time frame, at home and abroad. Our policy of continuous investments and our thrive for innovation have resulted in a range of over 3.000 products, with an annual turnover of over 10 million and premises exceeding 12.000m², with more projects in the pipeline.
