We are now turning four into five.

The new version of a classic.

It all started with the simple idea of making everyday life easier. From its beginnings to the present day, the cable box has been a faithful companion and was developed to create order and safety when dealing with cables lying around.

Today we are presenting the latest generation of the brennenstuhl® Vario-Line cable box, whose new design embodies the best of both worlds - quality and progress.

Not only our high standards in product development, but also the avoidance of annoying cable clutter or dangerous tripping hazards ensure fewer everyday dangers in the office or at home.
