

Review of the 135th Canton Fair

In the day of the spring breeze, the first phase of the 135th Canton Fair came to a successful end. As an enterprise in the field of low-voltage electrical, we has demonstrated its deep strength with excellent technology and the spirit of continuous innovation. This time, company made an amazing appearance with a number of products, including intelligent switches, plastic-case contactors, intelligent circuit breakers, and new energy charging piles, showing the continuous innovation and development trend in new fields.

Since the opening of the exhibition on April 15, we has received more than 100 foreign businessmen, and the booth is crowded with customers. We shows an open and cooperative attitude, actively exchanges industry trends and market trends with merchants, and jointly discusses the possibility of cooperation. Compared with last year, businessmen from the CIS region and third world countries have become new growth points.

Our business team with full enthusiasm, professional quality, to each visiting customer detailed display of the company's rich product lineup, innovative technology, excellent performance and a wide range of application scenarios, and according to the needs of customers to provide personalized solutions, won widespread praise.
