Restaurants with a casual dining style are often loved by their own signature delicious dishes.

The variety of dishes as well as friendly, warm and comfortable space is a note that restaurant owners should not ignore. With the increase of demands from diners, use of branded dining utensils is key, which helps the restaurant quickly rank up in the eyes of customers who easily love and feel secure by the quality of the restaurant.

Minh Long - the leading brand in the Vietnamese porcelain industry takes pride in its quality and luxurious design and can help your restaurant to appear classy with customers.

DAISY

Daisy is a white chrysanthemum species with pure, delicate and pure qualities; Minh Long porcelain artists have brought the tenderness of daisy petals into the design of the Daisy dining set.

Daisy has a slightly tapered shape at the bottom to create a sense of elegance, which is suitable for the dining table layout to create a cozy family atmosphere, and bring a warm and friendly feeling to casual parties.

The product line is fired at a high temperature of German quality standards - 1380°C and made use of nanotechnology to achieve the most beautiful glaze and extreme hardness, safe for frequent use in restaurants and easy to clean and store.

Fine dining in an elegant manner!

This is found in restaurants that aim for a luxurious, elegant dining experience with top notch dishes.

The luxurious spaces and lavish decoration with the perfect service of professional staff bring absolute satisfaction to the guests. The chefs known for their skills affirm their signature artwork through the dishes they bring to customers.

The more sophisticated presentation and styling a dish requires, the more carefully the chef has to choose plates, bowls and cups. Minh Long's products with each design and shape carefully researched, and our culinary knowledge through the years help chefs' dishes easily win the admiration of other customers.

GASTROLINE

Gastroline is the product line that won the Best Product Design Idea at the world-famous design competition Red Dot Design Award. Gastroline has top-notch design and shaping technique because of the difficulty shown in molding at extremely sharp squares that very few porcelain companies in the world can achieve until now. Having products in the Gastroline collection shows that the owner has sophisticated taste in art and knowledgeable in technology.

The product line is fired at a high temperature of German quality standards - 1380°C and made use of nanotechnology to achieve the most beautiful glaze and extreme hardness, safe for frequent use in restaurants and easy to clean and store.

Nowadays restaurants are fully equipped, spacious, and able to serve important large-scale events such as weddings, seminars, conferences, year-end parties... for corporate or individual customers. Each staff has a team of professional chefs serving. Customers are more and more demanding. In addition to the diverse menu, the space decorations should be always up-to-date. When it comes to choosing utensils (cups, plates, bowls, spoons, glasses) and food styling, it must be attractive. Understanding that need, Minh Long has researched and developed products with many designs to help chefs unleash their creativity. The quality of Minh Long's porcelain with brightness, hardness and gloss surpasses even the most requirements.

DAISY

Daisy is a white chrysanthemum species with pure, delicate and pure qualities; Minh Long porcelain artists have brought the tenderness of daisy petals into the design of the Daisy dining set.

Daisy has a slightly tapered shape at the bottom to create a sense of elegance, which is suitable for the dining table layout to create a cozy family atmosphere, and bring a warm and friendly feeling to casual parties.

The product line is fired at a high temperature of German quality standards - 1380°C and made use of nanotechnology to achieve the most beautiful glaze and extreme hardness, safe for frequent use in restaurants and easy to clean and store.

GASTROLINE

Gastroline is the product line that won the Best Product Design Idea at the world-famous design competition Red Dot Design Award. Gastroline has top-notch design and shaping technique because of the difficulty shown in molding at extremely sharp squares that very few porcelain companies in the world can achieve until now. Having products in the Gastroline collection shows that the owner has sophisticated taste in art and knowledgeable in technology.

The product line is fired at a high temperature of German quality standards - 1380°C and made use of nanotechnology to achieve the most beautiful glaze and extreme hardness, safe for frequent use in restaurants and easy to clean and store.

In French, buffet means self-serve meal, customers are free to move and choose their favorite dishes. Buffet restaurants require the preparation of many different dishes at the same time in large quantities, presented on countless plates and bowls. The general utensils here are often oversized to contain a large amount of food. Therefore, the tableware must also meet their own standards in terms of size, strength, and the capacity to present a lot of food.

Minh Long has carefully researched and produced many products that meet the standards of the buffet restaurant.

DAISY

Daisy is a white chrysanthemum species with pure, delicate and pure qualities; Minh Long porcelain artists have brought the tenderness of daisy petals into the design of the Daisy dining set.

Daisy has a slightly tapered shape at the bottom to create a sense of elegance, which is suitable for the dining table layout to create a cozy family atmosphere, and bring a warm and friendly feeling to casual parties.

ROOM SERVICE

HEALTHYCARE

The first impression when arriving at a hotel or resort is the welcome service at the lobby when one checks in and is served by the staff with a glass of cool drink in the summer or warm one in the winter. The difference increases when the hotel prioritizes the use of porcelain products with the message of health safety and good for nature. With that insight, Minh Long provides products such as porcelain cups, porcelain bottles, porcelain boxes... which are very suitable for your Hotel/Resort to choose to use and upgrade your service.
