Gamma Steel srl is an Italian company created from several years of experience in the manufacturing of steel and plastic for cutlery, kitchenware and tableware.

The company has established itself on the Italian high level market and around the world under the brand D&D (Domus & Design) through an important network of dealers who represent us. "Sophistication and love for quality, production made in Italy with a special attention to smaller details" this is the philosophy of Domus & Design brand.

D&D creations are dedicated to those who love to take care of their home with high quality products, rich in meaning and value. These are some of trademarks of our cutlery, kitchenware and tableware production.

If would be a pleasure for us to become acquainted with You, and show You our products, partly visible on our web-site www.domusanddesign.it
