LIFE IS COLOR. This is how we see the world, and we experience the joy of working with colors every day. So let's share the love of color and, together make the world a more creative place.

The PANTONE products by Copenhagen Design are designed by the two internationally renowned Danish designers Ulrik Nordentoft and Søren Varming. Ulrik works with product and interior design, and has designed several classics for acclaimed Danish design companies. Søren specializes in graphic design and has, amongst others designed award-winning graphic identities for museums and leading international businesses. Søren also designed the official logo for HM the Queen of Denmark to celebrate her 80th birthday in April 2020. The result of the collaboration is a portfolio of functional products, which celebrate the joy of color.

A world infused with colors

Life is colors. This is how we see the world at PANTONE.
And we experience the joy of working with colors every day.

Working professionally with colors, we recognise that no two people see colors in exactly the same way. In fact, it was with this insight in mind that we invented the PANTONE MATCHING SYSTEM® over 50 years ago.

Today, this is used daily all over the world, by art directors and designers to infuse their work with color – and ensure that their choice of color is true to their original idea.

Through the collection of PANTONE lifestyle products made by Copenhagen Design, we want to share our love of colors and enable you to express yourself through colorful accessories like a coffee cup in vibrant yellow, a key chain in daring pink or a water bottle in classic dark blue.

In the emerging world of sustainable practices and corporate social responsibility, knowing and being in control of your supply chain is increasingly essential. And Copenhagen Design wishes to sustain this focus throughout our production process.

It is about the choices we make, about being consistent. And transparent. We require of our manufacturers that they adhere to applicable laws and regulation consistently and conscientiously. We monitor the auditing processes and follow up on a regular basis.

Product sustainability

Some of the choices we make include finding sustainable materials for our products, such as the plastic product Tritan. It contains no bisphenols, neither BPA nor BPS, making it the safe choice for our clients – and for the end users of each item produced.

Another example is our manufacturer in Thailand who produces all our ceramics. They have recently converted as much as a third of their electricity consumption to solar power by installing their very own solar panels on the roof of the facility. This comes on top of their focus on waste water management and initiatives like changing all fixtures in the factory to LED lighting.

Working environment

Sustainability is not only about products and processes, it is also about the people who work for us. It is a perpetual process of improvement, but all our manufacturers are also audited on a regular basis when it comes to living and working conditions for their employees, from safety in the work place to worker's rights and environmental regulation. We could mention, for example, that all workers are employed on contracts defining their tasks, set hours and wages – something we perhaps take for granted.

At Copenhagen Design we welcome and applaud all improvements and continue to monitor and support the journey towards a more sustainable future in all its aspects – from each original design through all steps of the process to finished keychain, mug or umbrella.

“An unconventional shade for an unconventional time, PANTONE 18-1750 Viva Magenta is an all-embracing color whose expression of vitality is provocative, daring and increasingly blurs the worlds of genders and generations. Invoking the forces of nature while equally at home in the digital world, a transformative red tone capable of driving design to create a more positive future.”

PANTONE

Viva Magenta
18-1750

PANTONE 18-1750 Viva Magenta writes a new narrative. Brave and fearless, a pulsating color whose exuberance promotes optimism and joy. Powerful and empowering, it is an animated red that encourages experimentation and self-expression without restraint; an electrifying, boundaryless shade that is manifestly “out there” and is a stand-out statement. Audacious, witty and inclusive of all, PANTONE 18-1750 Viva Magenta welcomes anyone and everyone with the same rebellious spirit.

A nuanced crimson red tone that presents a balance between warm and cool, PANTONE 18-1750 Viva Magenta is also a hybrid color, one that comfortably straddles the physical and virtual, evocative of our multi-dimensional world. Assertive but not aggressive, it is a carmine red that does not boldly dominate but instead takes a “fist in a velvet glove” approach. Exuding dynamism, PANTONE 18-1750 Viva Magenta is a transformative red tone capable of driving design to create a more positive future.

A tribute to the founder of the modern color system

Johannes Itten (1888-1967) was a Swiss expressionist painter, designer and teacher and in many ways the theorist and originator behind modern color definition.

With his color wheel, he succeeded in depicting the connections between the colors in an easily understandable way by defining three primary colors: Red, Yellow and Blue.

These colors cannot be mixed from any other colors. However, all other colors can be mixed from the three primary colors. When the two primary colors are mixed together in equal parts, secondary colors are created, Green (Yellow + Blue), Violet (Red + Blue), Orange (Yellow + Red). The opposite colors on the wheel are called the contrast colours, so yellow is the opposite of purple, meaning that when the colours are next to each other they optically stand out. You can explore this by placing purple grapes in a yellow bowl or red strawberries in a green bowl.

Johannes Itten was one of the first masters at the Staatliches Bauhaus in Weimar, appointed by Walter Gropius from 1919 until 1923, and later founded the Advanced School of Textile Art in Berlin. In 1934, the school was closed by the NSDAP, and Itten then became the director at the Kunstgewerbemuseum (Museum of Applied Arts) in Zürich. He joined Max Bill's Ulm School of Design (HfG) in 1955. In 1961, he published the groundbreaking book The Art of Color and said: "Colors are forces, radiant energies that affect us positively or negatively, whether we are aware of it or not."

At Copenhagen Design we developed this Pantone Soup Bowl as a tribute to him and his work.
