granite series

inspired
by nature

Every Granite item is innovative by its nature.

It combines a unique design with exceptional materials and a cutting-edge technology.

The design is inspired by natural materials: handles with wooden-effect, body in black color and an interior surface that reminds of granite. But the technical features are quite complex: They body is made from die-cast aluminum which features also a magnetic base that ensures excellent induction heating while contributing also to the perfect distribution of the heat at the bottom of the pan. The very performing 2-ply non-stick coating rounds off the package.
