Christoph Bohrer

———— Driven by Creativity. stilform is the new brand on the writing instruments market. It is defined by distinctive design, innovative functions and emotional experience. With our passion for design and attention to every single detail, stilform creates durable, timeless writing instruments that last for generations. We are not merely founders, but also designers and product developers.

Our vision is to design fountain pens, ballpoints, gel pens and other designer writing instruments that you won't want to put down. Whether you write, sketch, design or draw – our stilform products will inspire your creativity.

stilform – Creativity begins with a Pen.

— stilform is a design studio based in Hamburg. It was founded in 2013 by Christoph Bohrer and Martin Wagner to create designer writing instruments and office products. The focus has always been to produce distinctively designed and aesthetically pleasing products that embrace the synergy of emotion, function and innovation in the design process. All parts – from the barrel down to the tiniest screw – are made of titanium or aluminium. Both materials are extremely durable and exceptionally lightweight. The unique, integrated magnetic function allows them to be conveniently opened with just one hand.

WE CAN REACH YOUR CUSTOMERS – IN FACT, WE ALREADY DO

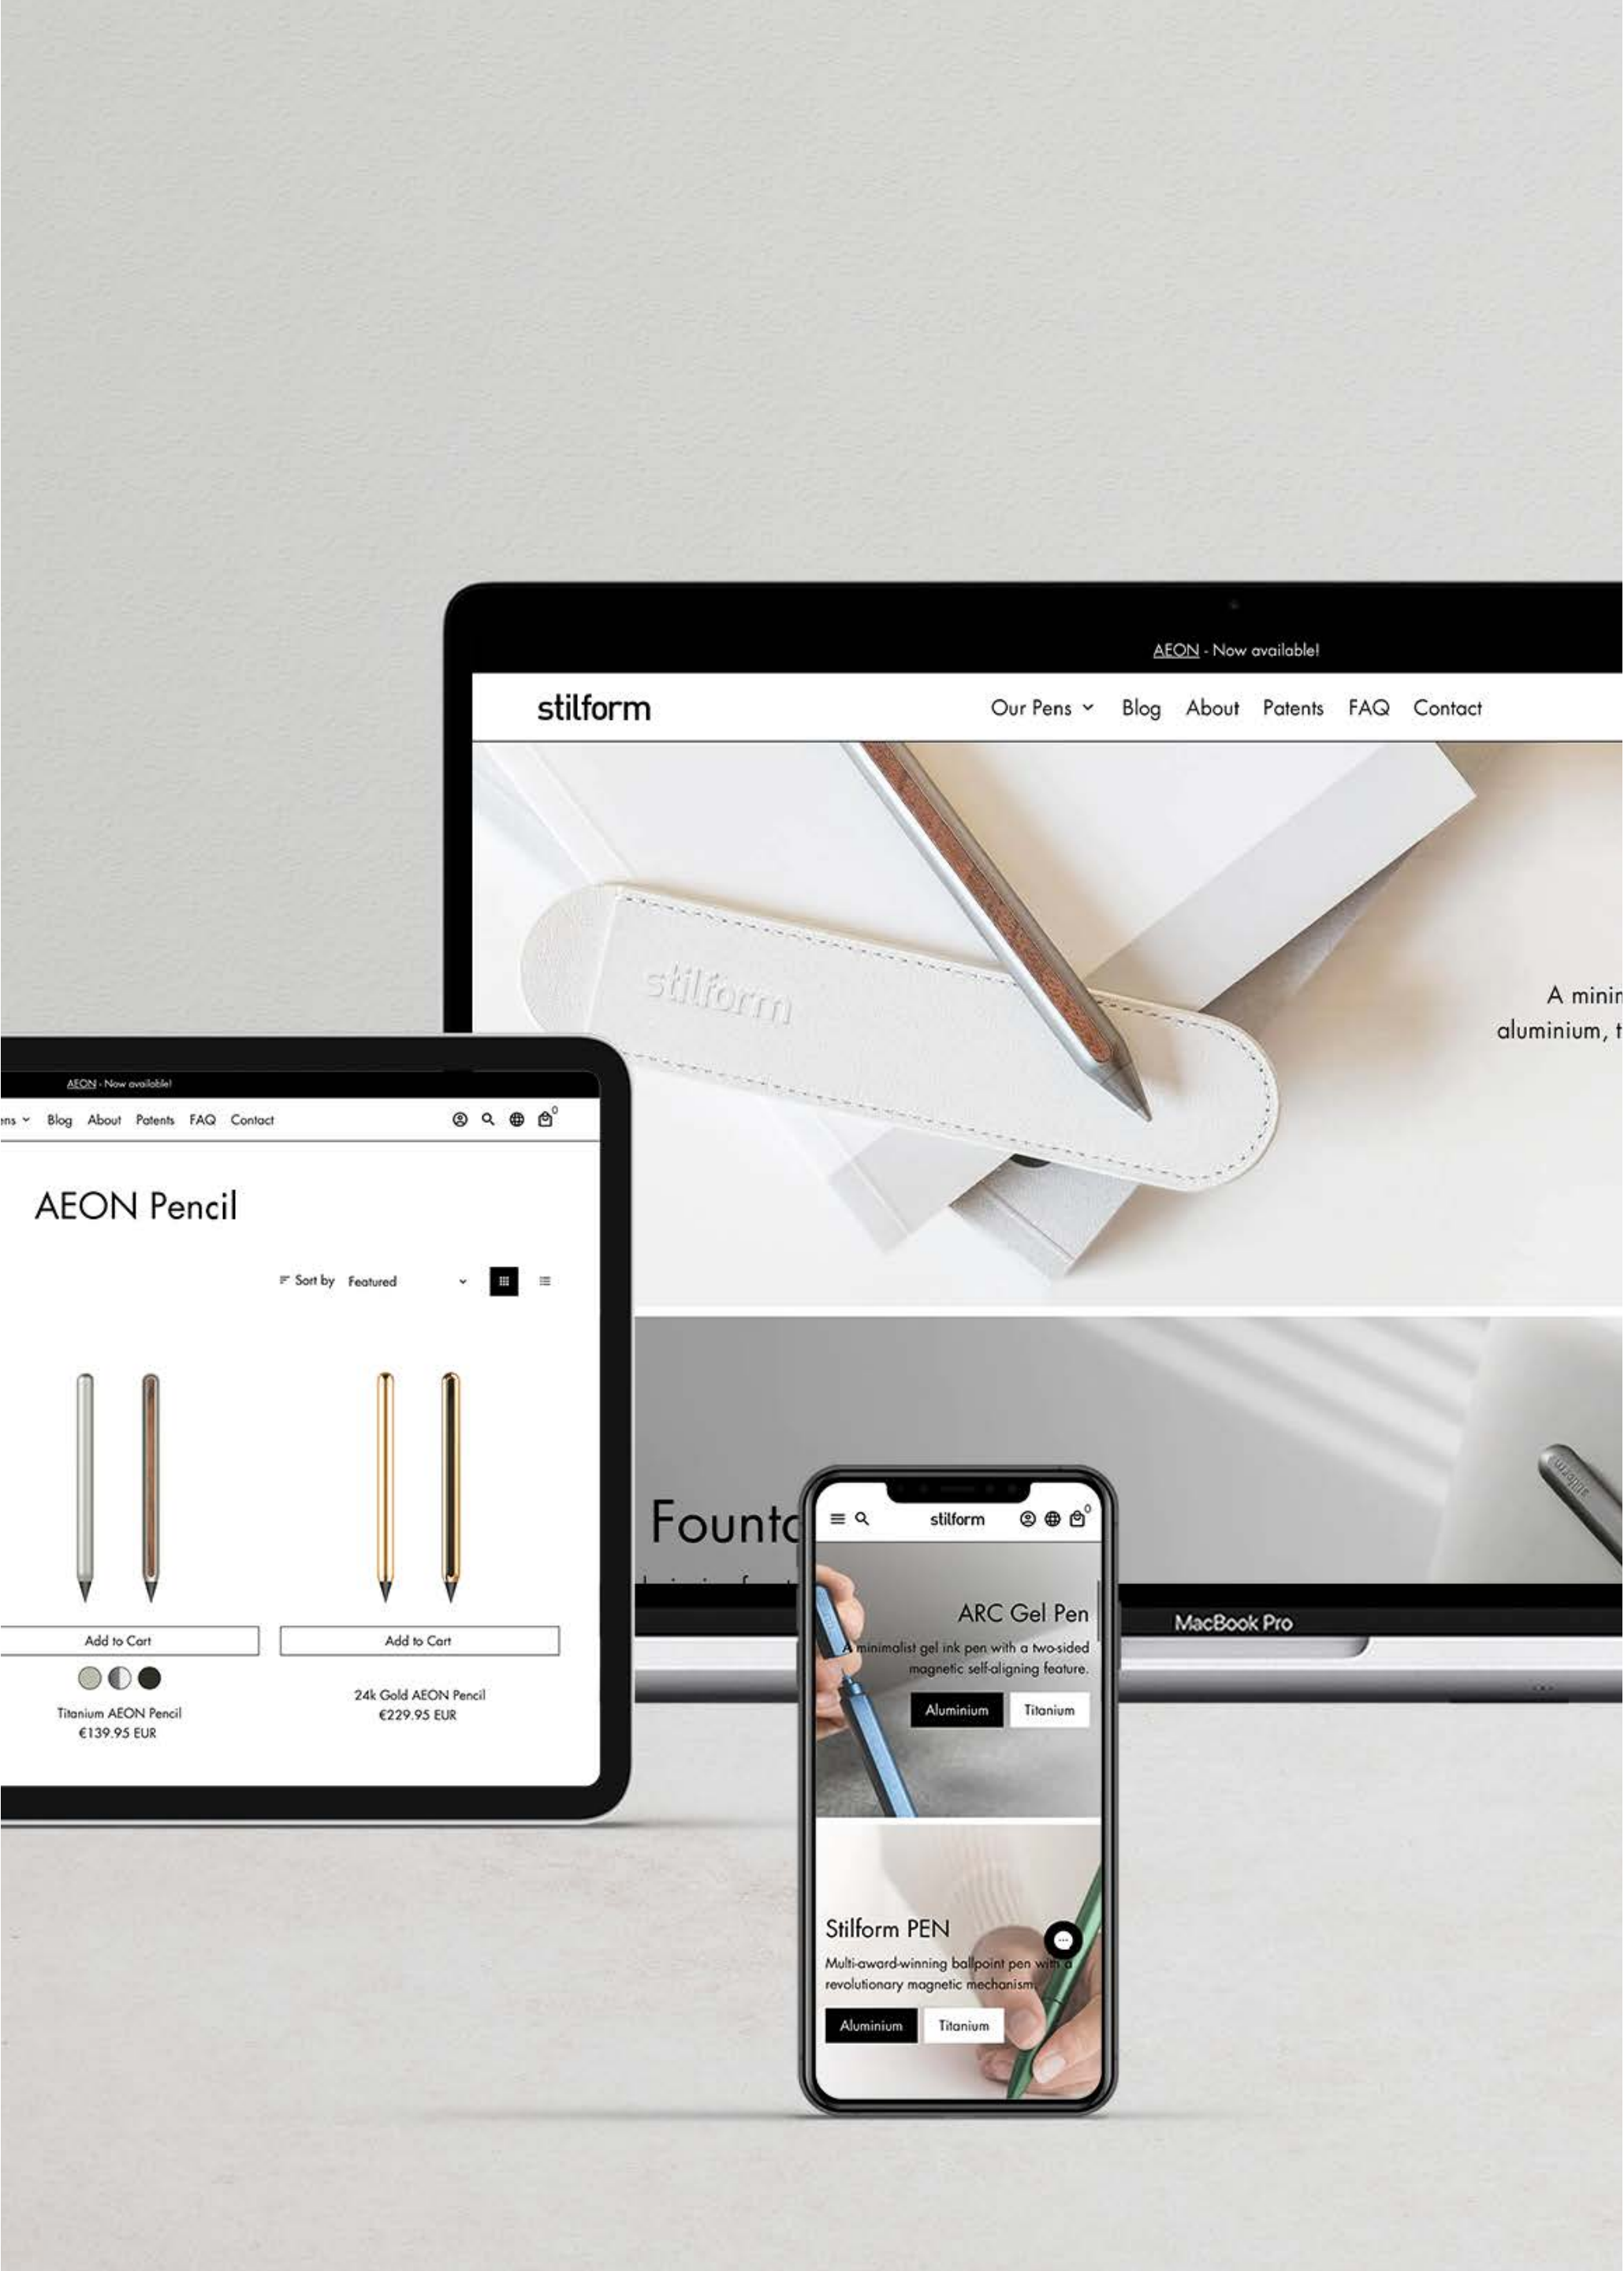

Our communication strategy is to reach your customers where they can and want to be reached.

As a successful D2C brand, we already appeal to your customers through our brand communication. We bring the stilform brand to life and make it a tangible experience with targeted and tailored communication.

We generate the first buying impulse and act as your extended marketing arm along the customer sales journey.

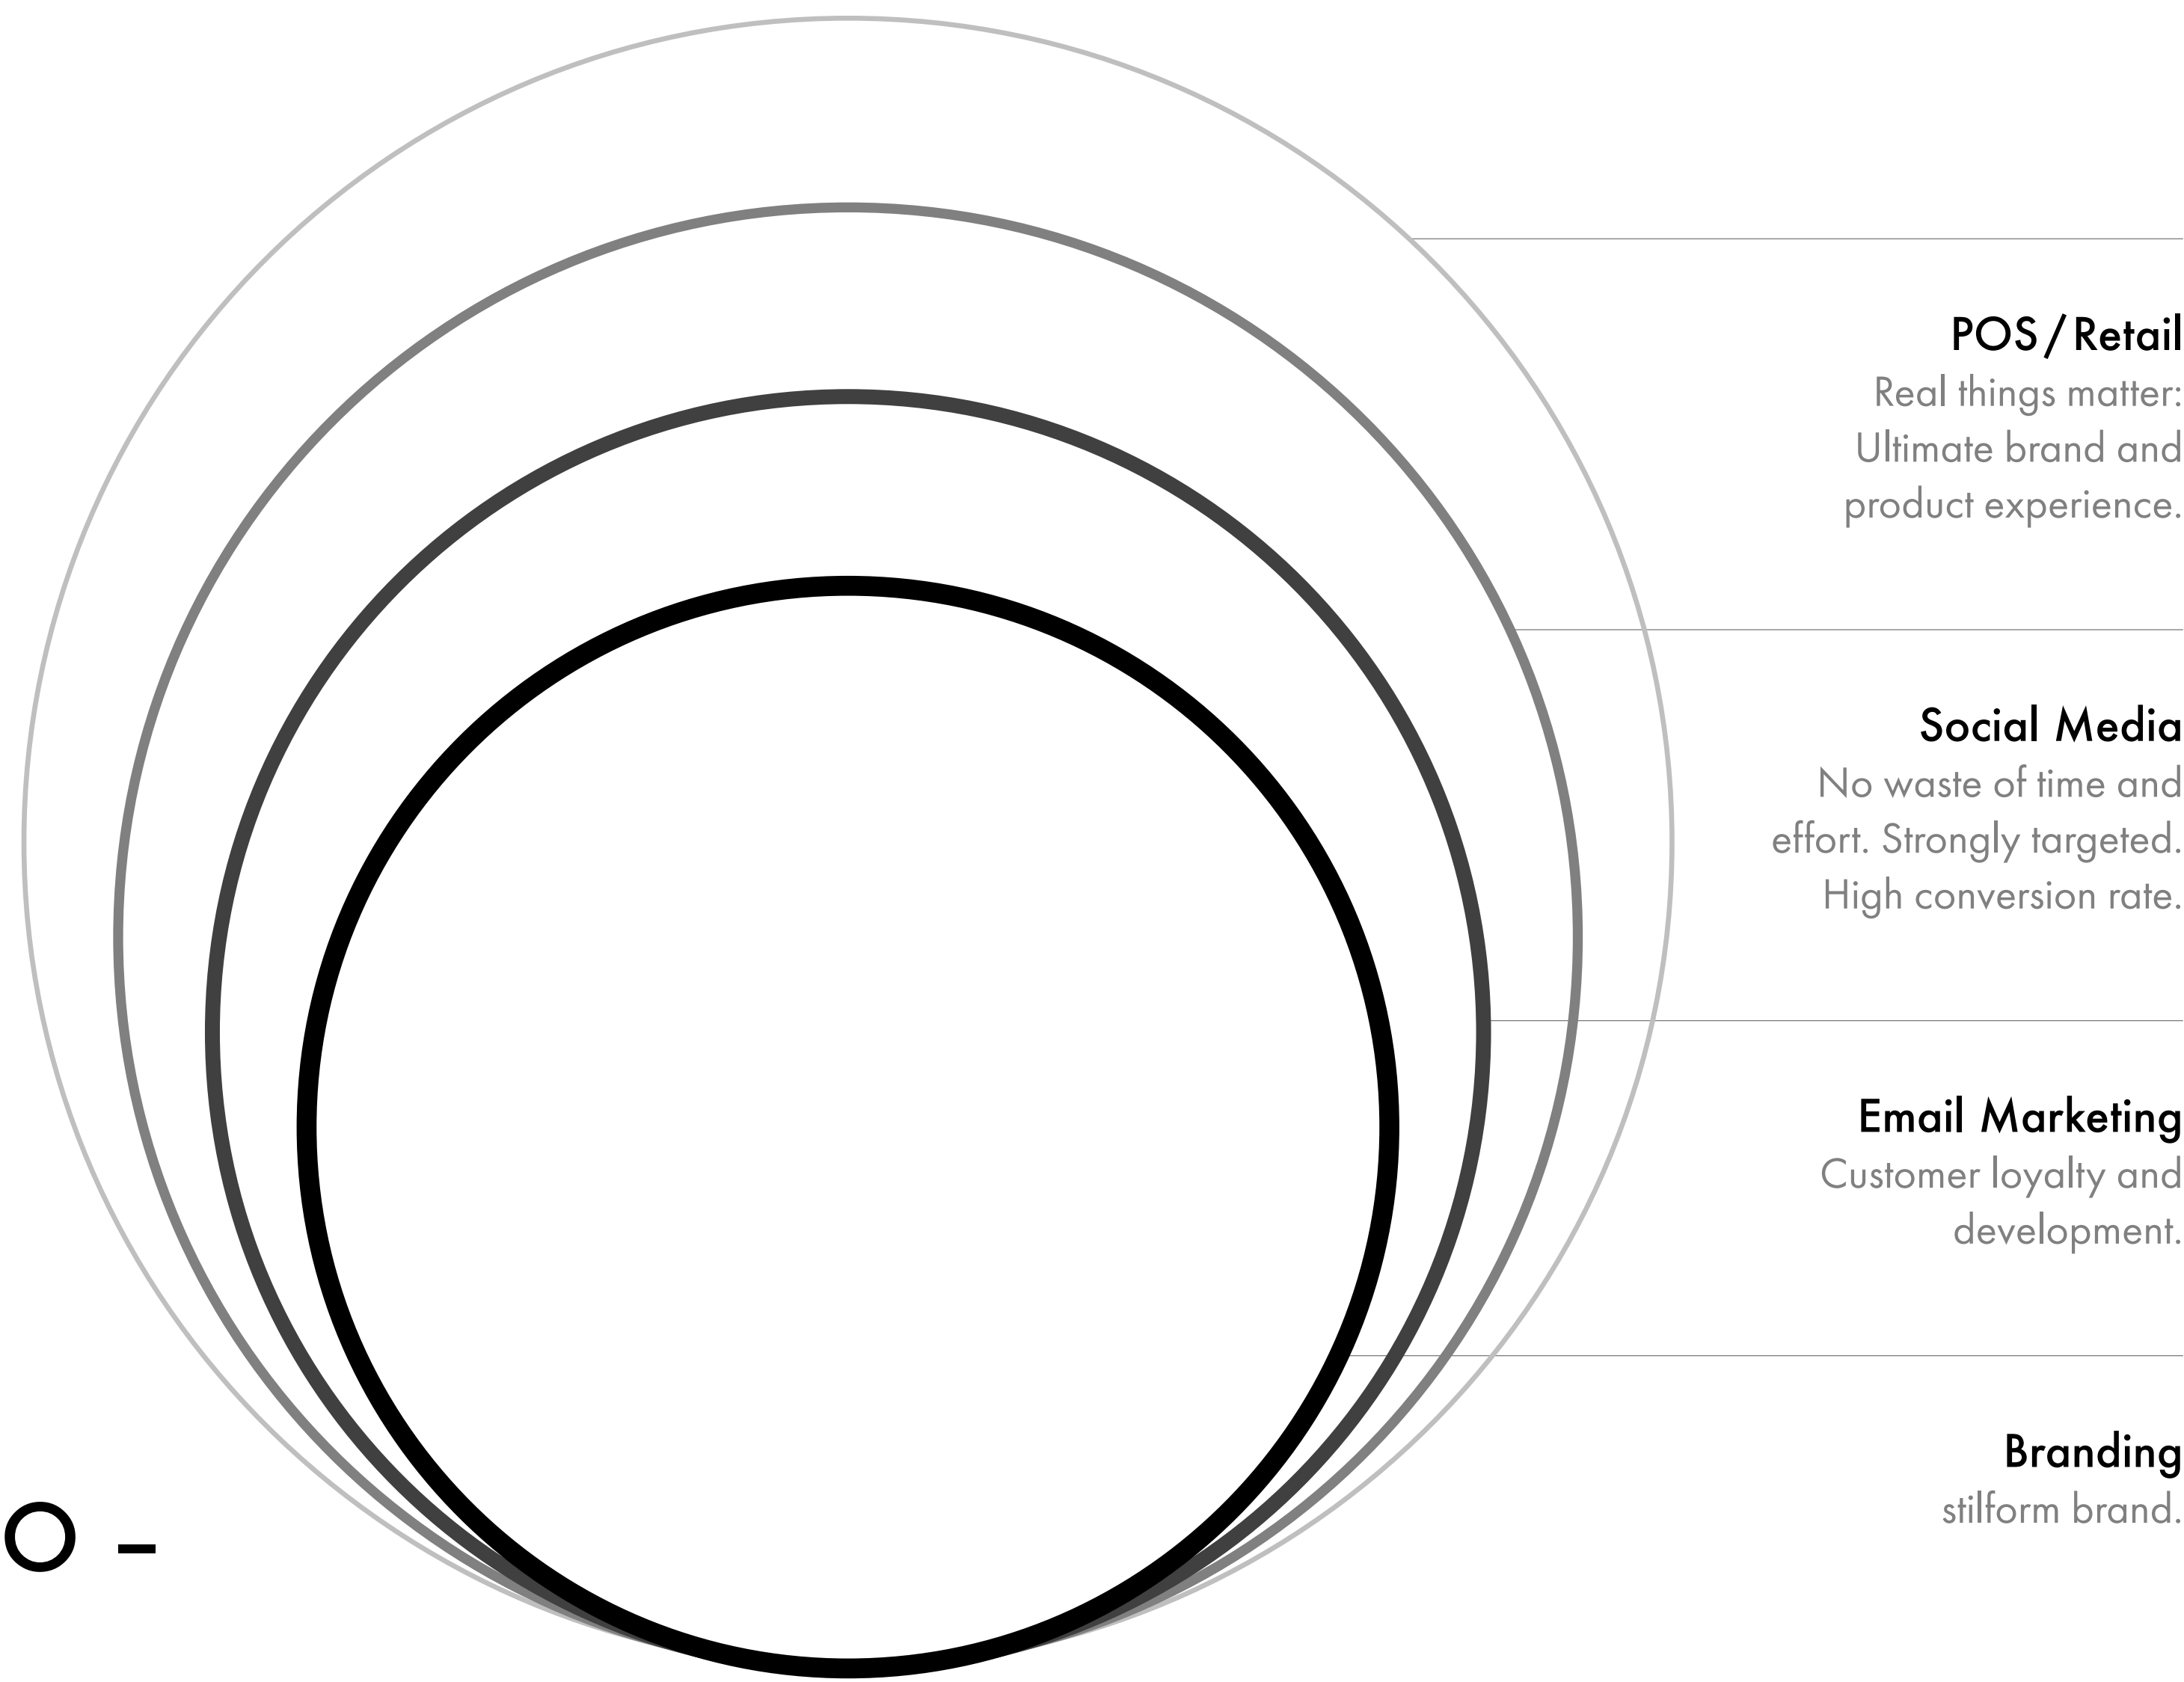

With high digital reach, we connect with the customers of today and tomorrow.

——— Because we decide with all our senses!
We communicate the first impulses for experiencing and perceiving our brand through our digital channels. However, the ultimate brand and product experience along the sales journey takes place at the point of sale (in retail). This is where the uniqueness, value and essence of the brand and its products become tangible.

We are your partner and extended marketing arm along the customer sales journey. Because we believe in authenticity and that REAL THINGS MATTER.

OUR BRANDING COMMUNICATION ECHO – WE SET THE TONE.
