

New move for Carisa Radiators

Previously in Rochester, Carisa Radiators have moved to a new site on the Roundthorn Industrial Estate in Manchester. With a warehouse more than 3 times bigger than before and a massive showroom and meeting area with all their key products on display, Carisa are certainly expanding in the UK.

With its innovative and quirky designs, Carisa stands out not only as a brand with over 48 years of manufacturing experience, but as a brand to add style and originality to all living spaces.

Carisa has an extensive range of products using high quality aluminium, steel and stainless steel materials, and their collections include convection and electric radiators as well as towel warmers. The company is proud to have made a name for itself in more than 40 countries around the world and all its products are designed and manufactured in Carisa's own factory to ensure optimum quality and finish.

Barry Custy, General Manager in the UK says:

"We had outgrown our previous site, and the new warehouse is perfectly placed for national distribution. It's also great to have such a spacious showroom and we are happy to welcome new and existing customers to come and see the vast range of products we have on display."

The products are available directly from the warehouse in Manchester which has an in-house team of experienced heating advisors who are available to provide assistance with any installation and maintenance enquiries. The brand is committed to providing quality products and excellent customer service and gives a full warranty for peace of mind.

NOTES TO EDITORS:

CARISA is a UK brand of designer radiators, towel warmers and heating products that use unique design and cutting-edge technology to drive their product development and manufacturing.

The CARISA brand is recognised internationally, and each product is created by our experienced research and development team who have led the heating market for over 45 years. All CARISA products are designed, manufactured and built by our own people, in our own factories in Istanbul.

Our heating collections include aluminium, steel, stainless steel, and electric products in a full range of sizes and colours.

In the UK, our new premises in Manchester include an extensive warehouse, offices and attractive showroom and our products are distributed to showrooms and retailers nationwide.

Working internationally with a broad range of architects and interior designers, CARISA has established loyal specification partnerships on a number of large projects.

Our products adorn homes, hotels and other commercial and architectural projects around the world.
