

SIM company life goes over several historical periods in Portugal, Europe and the World.

Like all "long-lasting" companies, it started very small and it has been growing step by step.

SIM had good moments but also overcame big storms, always supported by the resilience of its leaders, by the dedication of its collaborators, by the cooperation of its suppliers and by the trust of its costumers.

Thank you all.

We will do everything in our power to continue to be worthy of your consideration.
