The concern Block Stem srl is the concept of remanufacturing distinguished by the progressive technology inside of it.

Technological skills in the mechanical, electronic and electrotechnical fields, combined with dedicated production and testing equipment, constitute the essential and founding elements of our regeneration process.

We distinguish ourselves for the particular attention we place towards all our products, the details and respect for the rigorous standards observed in all the activities and in particular for reducing the environmental impact.

The young and innovative spirit, the constant attention to the requests of our customers, as well as a constant updating of the offer in terms of products and services.

The Research and Development Area is in fact constantly working to optimize the necessary processes in order to offer the needs of a constantly evolving market.

Our values are highlighted in the open-mindedness and respect we have for people and society, as well as in the responsibility with which our collaborators work. We owe our success in fact to their skills and to the passion with which they carry out their work every day.
