

Our Story

Mrs. Varsha Jariwala, a textile designer by profession and an entrepreneur by nature has skilfully explored various businesses such as glass etching, mehendi and baatik painting, but was never content with the scope of creativity they offered. This led to the establishment of Neelansh Exports in 2001, to cater to the global market with her skilful use of Zari, Beads, Tassels, Sequence, Cloth and Embroidery Techniques in Christmas Ornaments and other Handmade products. Neelansh Exports specialises in Christmas Ornaments, Hangings, Embroidered Purses, Pouches, Bags, Jewellery of Zari, Angel Hair Decoratives, Tassels and Zari items. We also make customized designs according to our customers' needs and requirements.

Why Us?

Custom Designs

We believe the best of the products are made when the buyers give their inputs into making a product as each country has its own taste and design language. We closely work with our artisans to develop unique products as per your demand.

15 Plus years of experience

This is our second generation into exports, we have hundreds of customers worldwide with experience of more than 44 exhibitions around the world. Hence, it is safe to say we have seen a lot of trends come and go.

Intelligent use of Raw Material

We take great pride in our origins at Kinari Bazar, Chandni Chowk. It's been a hub of variety of raw material since the Mughal Era and still has to offer a plethora of new material and embellishments. We are based out of here and always try to amalgamate new designs with a variety of new material..

Great Collection

With so many years of experience we can safely say that we have something for everyone in our assortment.

Our Team

Our company strongly believes in the genuineness and generosity of family business – this belief has been embedded since our humble beginnings in 1935. The core of our business beliefs were initiated by our forefathers in the heart of Old Delhi, in Chandni Chowk, and is still running and flourishing with your support and well wishes.
